Franklin Co. CTC – 2nd place

Nelson Co. ATC – 3rd place

Once again, HJH-ATC welding instructor Chris King took on the daunting task of coordinating a major welding competition for high school students. The Central Kentucky Welding Classic was held November 10-11, 2011 in King's welding lab. Sixteen teams had an opportunity to show off their skills during individual and team events judged by business and industry representatives. Welding students competed for $5,000 in prizes and $8,500 in scholarships donated by industry partners.
